

Classroom Management:

Skills and Techniques for Modern Educators, Formative Assessment and Collaborative Strategies

Created with ♥ by teachers for teachers
Split and Zagreb, Croatia | 7-day course

Description

This course is designed both for teachers who have been teaching for decades and those who have recently stepped into the classroom for the first time. No matter how much experience one has, sooner or later many start using a limited set of methods instead of learning some fantastic tools that make lives easier. This course will be a great guide through what every effective classroom management strategy should consist of. It will make a huge shift in the way one teaches.

The participants will be equipped with the necessary tools to set up a successful classroom management system from day one. Teaching and developing soft skills is more important than ever. This is why the course will guide participants through sets of activities that stimulate collaboration, creativity, and communication skills.

The course focuses on skills necessary to develop a happy classroom and capture students' attention. Participants will learn about quick and fun formative assessment activities that will help them evaluate their students' understanding and knowledge of a subject.

The course will introduce some of the best innovative teaching methods that will bring fun and laughter into every classroom. This is going to make the learning process more interesting, creating a positive classroom atmosphere.
